

HE MUST STAY OUT

Daniel J. McCarthy's Petition for Re-Admission Denied.

MANY ATTORNEYS OPPOSED IT

His Record Paraded in Court—Judge Grove Was Satisfied That He Should Remain Outside.

More than one-half of the attorneys in Grand Rapids were present in Judge Grove's court yesterday to listen to the reading of the report of the committee appointed to investigate the petition of Daniel J. McCarthy for re-admission to the bar. The testimony taken before the committee and a large number of affidavits were read in open court. The affidavits against McCarthy accused him of every crime imaginable, from jumping his bond to forgery. Many affidavits in defense of McCarthy were read and many of the alleged crimes and misdemeanors were explained away. Arthur C. Dennison and L. E. Knappen conducted the hearing. McCarthy was disbarred in 1929 and for three years wandered over the western states, and at last showed up in this northern part of the state where he was convicted of forgery and was sent to Jackson for one year. For the past two years he has appeared to have repented of his former life and has been sober, honest and industrious, so far as the outside world is able to judge. It was on this good behavior and a belief that he had reformed that his friends urged him to make application for re-admission.

There was a large protest filed against his re-admission, though the committee recommended that he be re-admitted. The record of McCarthy, as shown yesterday, is very bad. Judge Grove denied the petition without any conditions. He said the record was much worse than he had expected to find it. He had a great deal of confidence in the members of the committee who had reported favorably, but he was satisfied that if either of them occupied the position of judge and were called upon to assume the responsibility of passing upon the petition officially they would decide as he did—deny the petition.

Minor Court Notes.
The gamblers weakened yesterday, and two of them pleaded guilty. The sentence which Judge Haggerty gave A. G. Charters has had the desired effect and A. G. Charters and L. Butler were charged their pleas. They will be sentenced today.

Thomas Benjamin began suit in the circuit court yesterday against Anna M. Jordan to enforce a mechanic's lien. Benjamin built a house for Mrs. Jordan last summer and claims he has not been paid.

The case against Martin DeBruyne, for non-support, was dismissed in police court yesterday, as Mrs. DeBruyne has secured a divorce from him.

Martha A. Apgar was divorced yesterday from Andrew J. Apgar, on the ground of extreme cruelty.

COURT RECORDS.
United States Court.
JUDGE SEVERENS—William B. McKinney vs. Frederick A. Nims; orders allowing amendment of declaration and plea and notice.

Circuit Court.
JUDGE GROVE—In the matter of the petition of D. J. McCarthy for re-admission to the bar; petition denied.
JUDGE GROVE—Martha A. Apgar vs. Andrew J. Apgar; divorce; decree granted complainant.

Police Court.
JUDGE HAGGERTY—L. Battersworth, gambling; pleaded guilty; sentence deferred to March 4. William Cody, disorderly; adjourned to March 2. Al Miller, disorderly; adjourned to March 2. Al Miller, assault and battery; adjourned to March 2. Stanley Kozminski, assault and battery; adjourned to March 8. Martin J. DeBruyne, non-support; dismissed. William Qualey, aiding in a prize fight; adjourned to March 8. L. L. Chapman and Jonathan Silver, engaging in a prize fight; adjourned to March 8. Joe Couch and Fred Kelley, disorderly; adjourned to March 2. Det. De Vries, resulting in a house of ill fame; adjourned to March 2. A. G. Dykhouse, gambling; pleaded guilty; sentence deferred to March 6. Ed Duke, larceny; adjourned to March 2.

Ed Duke in Trouble.
Ed Duke is in trouble again. Ed is a colored man who is very much opposed to physical exercise if it is directed toward earning a livelihood. Calvin J. Hadley complained to the police yesterday that Ed Duke had come through his pockets in a Canal street moon and had stolen $10. Hadley says he can bring plenty of proof that Duke stole the money. Duke was arrested and pleaded not guilty when arraigned.

Contagious Diseases.
Helen Hall, No. 129 Central avenue, typhoid fever; Carrie Whitlock and two others, No. 116 South Division street, typhoid fever.

Burial Permits.
Carl Sayles, No. 14 Smith street, Ionia, Mich.; Mena Antink, No. 131 Central avenue, Valley City.

COME THE NEW SPRING DRESS GOODS!

They fall universally on all the Dress Goods counters. The Spring business opens with zeal. The people that sell the Dress Goods are quite apt to be critical. They study the subject constantly, for their lives are spent among the fabrics. It is pleasing to notice the enthusiastic approval with which they welcome the great quantities of new weaves that find a meeting place at

From every celebrated manufacturing center of the world. Just another proof of the wisdom that has controlled the buying.

DRESS GOODS LACK

A fixed language. The bonnie Scotchman, the practical Englishman, the fashionable Frenchman, the passionate Italian, the soft-eyed Chang Lung, all have a hand in creating the swelling flood that adds daily to the ensemble of beautiful Dress Goods. And this is but a symbol of its 35 relatives. Like a great garden of crocus pushing their pretty heads up through the snow, anxious to announce the coming of birds and foliage, the new things are crowding to the front.

DAILY OPENINGS

Is the store history now. A description of the new Dress Fabrics on sale would be a physical impossibility. You must come and use your eyes. Enough to say, you will enjoy a labyrinth of varieties most beautiful.

MONDAY MORNING

We place on sale one case two-toned Diagonals from 50c to $1.25, beautiful clean cut bargains. One case Valour Salambo, good value at $1.25, for $1.00. New Plaids in profusion from 50c to $1.50. A grand grouping of these popular Iridescent Twills at 50c, $1.00, $1.25, $1.50.

SILK AND WOOL MIXTURES.

All the new tints, fresh and bright with the new thoughts of the season. Splendid line of goods for misses' wear or desirable to make up in combination with goods you may have on hand. These fabrics, like the rest, are electrified with prices that make them dear—yes, dear to the economical soul. They are the essence of cheapness.

A BRIGHTER ASSORTMENT

Of Suitings in patterns, from $7.50 up, never saw day light. Plain colors in all the best weaves from 25c to $1.00. Evening shades expressed in the very newest ideas.

THOSE NEW CHALLIES

Never sang a sweeter song of summer days to come. Every rippling fold tells of such daintiness as the sweet briar and the mountain pink. Examine those exquisite French goods just in. Cream and dark grounds. Special value are those all wool Suitings at 37 1/2c, on sale this week. Also a charming variety of mixed Suitings and Plaids at 48c. These goods will make up daintily for the girls' school suits.

CRAVENETTES AND RAIN COATS,

Shower-proof, made so entirely by a peculiar treatment that adds nothing to weight and takes nothing from the wear or beauty. All the new shadings in these storm garments.
